Her analysis is further extended to discuss the implications of such a development for both the theory of the novel and reading theory. Having placed this phenomenon in its historical context Linda Hutcheon uses the insights of various reader-response theories to explore the “paradox” created by metafiction: the reader is, at the same time, co-creator of the self-reflexive text and distanced from it because of its very self-reflexiveness. Narcissistic Narrative: The Metafictional Paradox - Linda ... Hutcheon writes a very compelling text, citing a large number of texts in her presentation of her theory of the self-referential metafictional narrative. Intellectually most seductive is the central role she assigns to the reader and the reading process, which in the wake of post-structuralism and postmodern attempts to debunk the authority of the author offers a new source of meaning. Linda Hutcheon, in this original study, examines the modes, forms and techniques of narcissistic fiction, that is, fiction which includes within itself some sort of commentary on its own narrative and/or linguistic nature. Her analysis is further extended to discuss the implications of such a development for both the theory of the novel and reading theory. Narcissistic Narrative: The Metafictional Paradox - Linda ... Narcissistic Narrative: The Metafictional Paradox was written in response to the flood of self-reflexive fiction about fiction-making that washed over the literary shores of Europe and the Americas in the 1960s. It was an attempt, made in the 1970s, to map the consequences for narrative theory of these novels that, in effect, theorized themselves as they went about telling their stories. Narcissistic Narrative: The Metafictional Paradox - Scribd Out of the Bildungsroman or Entwicklungsroman, then, came the Künstlerroman with its preoccupation with the growth of the artist. As in f12 / Narcissistic Narrative: The Metafictional Paradox the psychological novel in general, unity of action was replaced by unity of personality-here, the artistic personality. Narcissistic Narrative: The Metafictional Paradox | Linda ... Narcissistic Narrative: The Metafictional Paradox was originally conceived as a defence of a kind of fiction which began to run rampant in the 1960s.

"Metafiction," as it has now been named, is fiction about fiction—that is, fiction that includes within itself a commentary on its own narrative and/or linguistic identity. Narcissistic Narrative - University of Toronto T-Space Narcissistic Narrative: the Metafictional Paradox. Well before postmodernism became the buzz-word of academic discourse, novels betrayed symptoms of its infiltration: from Tristram Shandy through to The French Lieutenant's Woman, the novel has been a narcissistic genre, examining within itself its own nature as narrative and as language..
