... The Living Church is the full articulation of Stott's dream for the body of Christ in the world today.

To the people of God who inherit the global church he has helped to build for the past sixty years, he bequeaths this calling: There is such a thing as goodness: pursue it.

The postmodern mood is unfriendly to all universal absolutes. The Pastor. In the first chapter Stott draws his principles from Acts 2:42-47 and declares that because the Holy Spirit has already come at Pentecost and because His work imparted these qualities to the early Jerusalem church, today what we the church need to do is to “humble ourselves before God, and seek His fullness, the direction and the power of the Holy Spirit... so that our churches will at least approximate to the essentials of a living ...
