refers to the unwritten, unofficial,

and often unintended lessons, values, and perspectives that students learn in school. While the “formal” curriculum consists of the courses, lessons, and learning activities students participate in, as well as the knowledge and skills educators intentionally teach to hidden curriculum is made up of the unwritten rules that people pick up through reading nonverbal social cues of those around them. Things like, "It might be OK to curse around your friends, but make sure that there are no adults within earshot." No one taught that, but we kind of picked it up along the
